Melancholia Leads Charleroi Man To Attempt Self-Destruction

LOCAL GENTLEMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Charles "Bud" Buffle Uses Razor, Slashing His Throat This Morning—Twenty Stitches Are Required to Close Wound

RUSHED TO THE HOSPITAL

Condition Is Serious—Act Is Impelled, It Is Said, By Ill Health—Lives With His Sister, Mrs. Thomas McVay, 534 Lincoln Avenue—Alone In House

Charles "Bud" Buffle, aged about 54 years, a bachelor, who makes his home with his sister, Mrs. Charlotte McVay wife of Thomas McVay of 534 Lincoln avenue, this morning at 10 o'clock attempted to take his life by slashing his throat with a razor, requiring 20 stitches to close the wound.

Mrs. McVay left her brother alone in the house doing repair work, while she did shopping down town. Upon returning to the home she found the outside entrance to the laundry locked, and when her brother made no answer when she called to him, after entering the house, she immediately began an investigation. This resulted in finding the man lying in the laundry with his throat slashed. Her screams immediately brought the aid of neighbors, who called local physicians to the scene, they administering first aid. The man was rushed to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where his condition is said to be serious, or at least the outcome cannot now be foretold.

The injured man has made his home with his sister and family for the past two years, coming here from Greene county. His melancholia, Sageng or Judge Oscar Hallam as due to illness, is believed to have been the cause of his rash act.

PLUNGES FROM ROAD INTO A STREAM

Two men, a woman and four children had a narrow escape from death Sunday night in an automobile accident on the Dry Run road. The accident occurred when Charles Griffith, who is employed as a salesman with the Studebaker sales force of the Weimer garage, Monongahela, was demonstrating a second-hand car.

The prospective customer was a Monongahela Italian by the name of Costello, who had taken his wife and four children. The party made the run to Kammerer, and were returning with the Italian at the steering wheel. While making the turn at the bad curve that exists near the H. C. Devore home, about one mile from Monongahela, the driver, inexperienced in operating a machine, drove the automobile off the road and into the front wheels became lodged in a rut in the road. An attempt to swing the speeding car back into the highway, resulted in the machine going over the embankment. It overturned twice, and finally righted itself in the waters of Dry Run. Despite the dangerous maneuvers of the automobile as it went over the hillside, only Griffith was hurt. His injuries are not serious. The Costello family escaped without injury.

JOHNSON TO BE NOMINEE OF F. L. PARTY

St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—Magnus Johnson walked away from Communist opposition and will be the farmer labor nominee for United States Senator, according to early returns from the state primaries today.

Johnson will run against Ole O. Sageng or Judge Oscar Hallam as the Republican nominee. Hallam had a lead of more than 10,000 over Sageng at an early hour, but the latter is expected to pick up a lead on country returns.

Thomas D. Schall, tenth district, congressman seeking the Republican senatorial nomination, was also ahead of Sageng on early returns. The tabulation so far, contains mostly Twin City and Duluth votes, where Hallam and Schall had their strength.

Theodore Christianson, Dawson publisher, was leading the Republican field for the nomination for governor, Curtis M. Johnson was next and Mayor George E. Leach, of Minneapolis, close behind.

SLEUTHS TO BREAK "PETTING" PARTIES

Pittsburgh, June 17.—The police are determined to break up automobile "petting" parties, about which there has been so many complaints from residents of the outlying districts of Pittsburgh.

The first move in the campaign was made by county detectives last night, when they took license numbers of 25 machines parked silently along the Fox Chapel and Creek road and Kittanning pike.

Prosecution of owners of the automobiles probably will follow, police said today. It was said the lights on the parked machines were extinguished, making it dangerous for other automobiles.

DANCING PUPILS PLEASE MANY

A well-pleased audience left the auditorium of the Charleroi High School last evening at the close of a most successful entertainment given under the direction of Miss Rita A. Criste, dancing instructor, when she presented approximately 60 of her pupils in a pretty dance recital.

The beautiful costumes and their various rainbow hues added greatly to the attractive and unusual program, which presented a group of local girls, all of whom displayed unusual grace and suppleness evidencing the weeks of continuous rehearsals, and also reflected much credit on their instructors.

This entertainment was the first of its kind given in the borough for a number of years and was enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to be present. The proceeds are to go towards the Endowment Fund of the Pennsylvania College for Women.

The piano accompaniment was played by Miss Anna Carroll and Miss Sarah Rosenbloom.

Settlement Of Dispute Between British Agent And Mexico Apparent

Mexico City, June 17.—Peaceful settlement of the dispute between British diplomatic agent Cummins and the Mexican government appeared in prospect today.

The diplomatic corps met at the British legation and held a long discussion of the case, causing a report that the foreign office in London probably will ask Cummins to ask for his passports and leave peacefully in compliance with the demand of President Obregon.

Cummins was still barricaded in the legation this morning, with detectives and gendarmes patrolling the streets around the building. The Union Jack floated defiantly over the legation building.

A man servant and a woman attendant who left the legation yesterday were not allowed to return.

The government, however, did permit Cummins a razor and toothbrush, after intervention by the British consul general, who delivered the toilet articles in person to the embattled envoy.

The consul said he also managed to take in a cake of soap and other articles Cummins had requested.

Telephone service still was cut off, however, and water was only allowed a few hours a day.

Cummins locked himself in the legation last week when the government ordered him to leave the country because of alleged intervention in Mexican affairs.

Publication of Prime Minister MacDonald's statement in the House of Commons yesterday, in which he said the British government considers Mexico's action a grave breach of international courtesy, brought only the reply here that Mexican government feels it is acting entirely within its rights.

COMMUNISTS MAY BREAK UP THE CONVENTION

Convention Hall, St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—Communists threatened to break up the "third party" convention just as it got under way here today.

Pro-convention organization was held at a complete standstill by the communists who desire action on their own program.

CALUMET

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

Wholesome—Clean—Dependable

Wholesome—because it contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the United States Food Authorities.

Clean—because it is manufactured in the most sanitary baking powder factories in the world, equipped with specially designed machinery to prevent exposure and contamination. The materials in it are untouched by human hands from the start to the finish in the sealed can.

Dependable—because every possible precaution known to Baking Powder scientists—the combined knowledge of a staff of Baking Powder experts—35 years of practical experience in the manufacture of Baking Powder—is used in our efforts to make its keeping qualities perfect.

Dependable—because Calumet is the Baking Powder that contains a small amount of dried white of egg—the ingredient that makes possible the "Water Glass Test." This test is a simple but important and positive method that enables you or anyone to easily prove that Calumet has preserved its remarkable leavening power.

Our salesmen frequently test the Calumet Baking Powder they find on the grocers' shelves to make sure that it is up to the Calumet standard. That's why it reaches you in the same perfect condition as it leaves the factory.

The test is not a comparative test of the strength of different kinds of Baking Powders. The "Water Glass Test" does not show the strength of a Baking Powder that does not contain white of egg. It does, however, show the superiority of Calumet in other respects.

The "Water Glass Test" furnishes a guarantee of reliability. It is Baking Powder Insurance.

Let us send you free a "Big Story in a Little Book," which describes the Water Glass Test.

Calumet Baking Powder is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every particular, and to be as represented in every respect.

NEW YORK BLOOMER GIRLS WANT TO PLAY IN CHARLEROI

The New York Bloomer Girls, champion female baseball stars of the world, crave action for their baseball attraction. Their manager, Miss Nabel, would like to bring her champs to Charleroi.

The team played 72 games last year. This season it will be toggled out in maroon-and-white uniforms. New material will make the club 25 percent more effective, she says. Florrie O'Rourke, Toots Anders, Helen Demarest, and Edna Kouri, the famous "Kittie Murphy," are still with the team. This is the club's fifteenth season. Among the facts connected with the club's activities are:

Two games were played in Mont-

On August 19, 1921 they played the Troys, at Pershing Field, Jersey City N. Y., before the largest crowd that ever packed a semi-professional game there. While the game was a week-end affair, 20,000 attended. Fourteen thousand persons witnessed the game in Wildwood, N. J. The Bloomers have broken field records for attendance on more than half the diamonds visited.

Last season among the semi-pro clubs they defeated were Franklinville Condorsport, Gonanda, New York State clubs and others. On this tour they will carry a male battery and short-stop of minor league experience. They have never been defeated by another girl's team, beating the Fletcher Farm Girls at Philadelphia 27-8; Quaker City Girls at Philadelphia 49-5, and Baltimore Black Sox Girls 51-2.

Games can be arranged through Syd Pollock of North Tarrytown, New York, who would be pleased to hear from all managers interested in playing the N. Y. Girls. Pollock can also arrange games for Tim Jordan, All Nationals, Maggie Raley's, All Stars or some of the leading colored and Cuban clubs that will tour Pennsylvania during the summer.

SLIPPING PIRATES DROP ANOTHER TO THE BRAVES

Dave Bancroft's Braves yesterday broke out of their losing streak and waltzed into fifth place when they flopped the backsliding Buccaneers to the doleful tune of 9-4 and shunted them back into sixth position to the amusement of a crowd of 4,000 fans. Jess Barnes, the right handed ace of the Boston team, held the Pirates to five hits, including a home run, clout by Hazen Cuyler. Cotton Tierney also smashed for the circuit off Cooper. One base was occupied when Tierney's lucky drive was delivered, but Cuyler knocked in two ahead of him.

Cooper was touched for right safeties and in the sixth Arnold Stone relieved him after Eddie Moore had filed out in a pinch. Stone was nipped for half a dozen smashes in the three closing rounds, four of these being crowded into the seventh inning. The game however, had been decided before the change of southpaws took place and thus Cooper had to shoulder another defeat.

SICK? WHY ARE YOU SICK?

If you are in ill health, Chiropractic can make you well. How and why Chiropractic can do so much for you is briefly explained below.

THE SPINE IN RELATION TO DISEASE

1. Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, insomnia, wry neck, facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.

2. A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.

3. The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers' cramp, etc.

4. A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.

5. Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine, sometimes so light as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained chiropractor.

6. Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccoughs, worms, etc.

7. Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin diseases, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in.

8. Regulation of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.

9. Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?

10. A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "dis-eases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms: hot flashes, insomnia, etc., and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 109 Armistead Street, Phoebus, Virginia.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irregularity, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Bridal Customs of Old Land of Egypt

Brides of ancient Egypt prepared for the wedding by dyeing their finger and toe nails with "henna." Baths in perfumed oils and painting of eyebrows were also part of the bride's toilet. Men and women alike went barefooted; sandals came later. A girl was usually betrothed at an early age. Her chief importance after marriage was to look after her husband's animals when she was not caring for her children. There has always been an exchange of money between the families of bride and groom. In lower Egypt today the prospective groom pays two-thirds of an agreed sum and the remainder in the event of divorce. Out of this initial payment the bride's family supplies her dowry.

It is said it was an Egyptian woman who first slipped the wedding ring from the second to the third finger of her left hand because she believed that an artery located there led directly to the heart. Beautiful hair has always been coveted. The headresses of the daughters of rich soldiers, physicians and others were more valued than those of today. Linen was the favorite dress material of these people for centuries, wool being considered unclean.

For weddings and other ceremonies a gold thread border was interwoven at the hem and about the neck of the dress. In order to keep property in the family and prevent scattering of large estates, brothers and sisters or uncles and nieces often intermarried. This custom is still practiced in some districts of the country.

Straw Hat Feature of Schoolboys at Harrow

A visit to the famous "Hill" of Harrow, on which stands a steeple which can be seen for miles, and a school which is famous all over the world, makes the total stranger gasp with astonishment. In all weathers the Hill is "alive" with straw hats at certain hours. These hats are the famous Harrovian straw, with a shape and texture which belong to the Harrovian and "to no other tile."

The straw hat is as completely "the thing" at Harrow as the topper is at Eton and Westminster. It fits only where it touches and requires an elastic to keep it from careering down the High Street on a windy day. This elastic is invariably worn under the bump at the back of the head and never under the chin, says London Answers.

In wet weather the hat gets very sloppy and acts as a sort of water-shed, giving the Harrovian the appearance of being surrounded by a miniature cataract. However, the straw-hat trade would suffer if this headgear were abolished, as there are 600 or 700 boys in the great school, and a straw tile does not last very long—especially on the head of a schoolboy.

Comfort for the Bald

Bald people usually bemoan the loss of their hair and sigh for the locks, which have gone forever, but there is at least one advantage which comes from baldness.

For example, have you ever met a bald man who was consumptive? It has been found that bald men are peculiarly immune from this disease. One doctor has said that out of 5,000 consumptive patients not a single one was bald.

Baldness is sometimes caused by bad dieting; but more frequently by letting the cold and damp penetrate to the roots of the hair. A man will emerge from a barber's shop with his hair wet even on the coldest day.

Excessive exercise is likely to bring on baldness. Athletes become overheated and, when they cool off, their scalp becomes chilled.

All She Wanted

She was apparently a Frenchwoman who spoke Russian or vice versa, and when she visited the home office she produced her passport over and over again in the course of her conversation with several porters and messengers.

Eventually they found a man who in 1919 had been transferred from the French to the north Russian front. After a long conversation intelligence came to this man. Stopping the woman's conversation with one hand, he beckoned to his colleagues with the other.

"Lady wants a house or a small flat," he said.

Newsprint Paper

Newsprint paper is mostly made of wood mechanically ground into a pulp. But the hardwoods are unsuitable because too much power is required to grind them. Only the long-fibered, light-colored, nonresinous balsams and spruces are important commercial sources of ground wood. Pulp made by this process cannot be used for print paper by itself. It needs to be strengthened by the addition of stronger fibered pulp, which is made by cooking chips of wood with a chemical under steam pressure in a specially designed cooker. In this process a large part of the wood known as lignin is removed, leaving fibers consisting of almost pure cellulose.

Elysium

The name Elysium is given in classical mythology to the region where the souls of the good dwell after death. The location of Elysium varied with the fancy of the writer. Homer placed it on the west of the earth, near the ocean, and described it as a happy land, famed by the delightful breezes of Zephyrus. According to Hesiod and Pindar, Elysium was in the Islands of the Blessed, in the western ocean (whence arose the notion of the fabulous island of Atlantis), while Vergil located it in the underworld, with an entrance near Lake Avernus, in Campania.

THE PRESIDENT'S UNDER-STUDY.

In connection with the growth of opinion that a Vice-President should not only be a statesman of first rank but should be more in touch with the activities of government, a scholarly article in the American Historical Review is timely in bringing forward what is known of the originally intended or attempted relations of the Vice-President and Cabinet. It is shown that in 1791 Washington notified the Secretaries of State, Treasury and War that in his absence he wished the Vice-President consulted. It also appears that President Taylor supposed that the Vice-President could be an ex-officio member of the Cabinet until he was advised that there was no such provision. President Wilson invited Vice-President Marshall to preside over the Cabinet during his absence in Europe and Mr. Marshall so served from December 18, 1918, to February 25, 1919. President Harding went still further, bringing into Cabinet councils Vice-President Coolidge, who became the first Vice-President regularly to serve as an ex-officio Cabinet member and this he did during more than two years.

This interesting fact seems to have been lost sight of or ignored while the effort was made to show that Mr. Coolidge was necessarily ignorant of such Cabinet decisions and proposals as Fall took a leading part in and was therefore in no way concerned. Mr. Coolidge's extensive Cabinet experience seems likely to set a precedent, for it is more and more recognized as desirable that a Vice-President should be more actively in touch with what is doing and what is proposed at the seat of government in order to be in training for the great office he may be called on to occupy. Such practical need is widely recognized in other lines, every leading actor, for example, being provided with an "understudy" studiously prepared to undertake his role on short notice.

MILLIONS OF MOTOR CAMPERS.

The pleasurable business of motor-camping has grown to enormous proportions in the United States. It is stated that no less than 10,000,000 Americans with 2,500,000 cars were engaged in it last year or during some part of last year. Seven million of these holiday-makers visited the twenty national parks. Florida and California are the chief objectives during the winter months, while New England, the Great Lakes and northern regions further west attract during the summer months. Portland, Oregon, entertained 76,980 guests in its city motor camp last year; Tampa, Fla., calculated that motor tourists spent $2,000,000 there, and even Aberdeen, S. D., figures that its merchants attending to motor-campers wants took in $175,000 last summer. Thus motor-camping not only brings pleasure and health to the tourists themselves but profit to the towns where they stop.

This accounts for the cordial reception given motor tourists and the comfortable, sanitary and attractive camps provided for them where they can find good water, kindling wood, milk, bread and eggs on sale. Such camps have long been known along the main routes of travel in the South and West. More recently they have been coming into existence in the East, many having been established of late in New England, New York mountain sections, and other sections. Everywhere the "business" grows, there now being provided even "literature" to tell the tourist where to go and how to make the best of his opportunity. The motor tourist needs a roll of bills, as well as a car, a tent, rations and cooking utensils, but he goes further, sees more, is more invigorated physically, and gets more "fun" for his money than he could in any other way.

Land of Many Tongues

Switzerland, unlike most countries, has no one official language. By the federal constitution German, French and Italian are recognized as "national languages," and debates in the federal legislature may be carried on in any of the three. According to a 1910 census, 2,944,200 people in Switzerland spoke German; 793,200, French, and 302,500, Italian. More than 40,000 spoke Romansch, which is derived from the Latin, but the tongue has no official recognition.

Ants' "Home-Brew"

Ants manufacture their own home-brew in their digestive canal by the action of yeasts on the milky juices which they extract from aphids or plant lice, which they keep for that purpose, according to Prof. Paul Linde, chief of the fermenting industry institute in Berlin.

An Absorbing Theme

Bermuda Described as an Earthly Paradise

When one is planning a trip to Bermuda, about the first thing one hears is the remark generally attributed to Mark Twain: "Bermuda is like going through hell to get to heaven. That depends on the weather on the Atlantic. Whatever exception the Atlantic may interpose to the first part of Mark Twain's epigram, no one will ever quarrel with his description of the islands, once they are safely reached.

Those who gather their impressions of the general appearance of Bermuda from colored-picture post cards are grossly deceived, because there are only two colors in the islands, green and white, says a Bermuda letter to the Brooklyn Eagle. The artist who colors the post cards represents the buildings as pink, red and orange, and a roof here of red, a blue one there and a yellow in another place, whereas every building on the islands, with one or two exceptions, is not only white, but whitewashed, from the foundation walls to the ridge poles on the roof.

The first view one gets of the islands, when the steamer stops at St. David's Head to take on the pilot, is a rolling mass of dark green, covered with a stunted growth of trees, studded with numerous white buildings, all rising from a sea of azure, such as is always found when there is coral undergrowth.

First to Tattoo Bodies

The South Sea Islanders were the first people to tattoo their bodies. There is a superstition among sailors and men of the sea that animals tattooed on their bodies ward off the evil spirits of the sea. A pig, for instance, on the left hip, was supposed to keep the wearer from drowning.

Latest in Stethoscopes

Some Pearls Valueless

English Writer Extols the Monkey as a Pet

In the Eighteenth century monkeys were fashionable pets, and I predict that the fashion will be revived, says a London writer.

I have kept a monkey as a pet for four months now. He is an excellent terms with the dog and the cat, and he is quite as well behaved as either. He is sentimental—not, indeed, with the pure domestic affection of the dog, but in a selfish and vampirish way.

He is the only animal that understands and imitates human. He will look at you from inside his cage with smiling eyes, and if you let him out on your return late at night, confident that it is pure affection for you that makes him look like that, he will lead you a dance and force you to rouse the house in order to get him back into his cage.

Most monkeys suitable as pets come from near the equator, and have to be kept warm on winter nights and a good fire made up for them. They should be nicely tucked in on a shelf in the cage, and in a journalist's house, at any rate, they will then sleep conveniently late in the morning.

Or Hooks and Eyes

A little South Carolina girl writes this one to the Columbia Record: "A man went to the hospital to have an operation, after the operation was over the doctor missed his gloves, then cut the man open and got the gloves out after they had sewed him up the doctor missed his towel and they had to cut him open again, when they sewed him up the doctor missed his scissors, the doctor said: 'Look here man I have to cut you open again and get my scissors.' The man said: 'Next time you cut me open just put buttons and button holes on me so you can go in and out when you please.'"

Metric System

The metric system of measurement was originated in 1793 by James Watt, the noted English inventor. One of the first nations to adopt this system was France during the French revolution. Lavoisier, the great French chemist, was the principal influence for its adoption. Today every civilized nation in the world, except the United States and Great Britain has adopted the metric system. These two English-speaking nations wrestle with a jumble of other systems, hence a strong demand that the world concentrate on one popular system, the metric.

Shintoism

As described by various authorities on Oriental religions, Shintoism is the simplest of them all—so simple, indeed, that there is nothing in it easily definable to Western minds. The Shinto gods are vague and abstract, and the Shinto temples are bare images. Lafcadio Hearn, in his "Glimpses of Unfamiliar Japan" and in some of his short stories, says much of Shintoism, but exactly what it is he does not tell. A little exploited phase of the cult is a form of "spiritualism." The "medium" through whom the dead speak to the living is an old story in Japan; the Orientals had it centuries and centuries ago.—Detroit News.

Cinchona Thrives in Burma

The cultivation of cinchona, the tree whose bark is the substance from which quinine is derived, has been introduced into Burma. A plantation of 250 acres was started some two years ago and the trees are said to be thriving vigorously. The plant is native to the western slopes of the Andes in tropical South America and its products were first known as Peruvian bark, or Jesuits' bark, from the fact that knowledge of its medicinal properties was first disseminated throughout Europe by returned Jesuit missionaries. The cultivation of cinchona has now spread to many parts of the tropics.

To Test Ground for Oil

An analysis of the gases dissolved in underground water may give a clue as to whether or not the soil through which it has seeped contains oil. If it traverses an oil sand or one containing natural gas it will dissolve out a proportion of the hydrocarbons of which the oil or gas is composed. When the water is then exposed to the air at the surface, the vapors will be driven off and their place taken by air. The vapors can then be analyzed. The United States bureau of mines has devised a portable apparatus which may be used for this purpose.

Cracks in Furniture

Ugly cracks in furniture may be easily filled in with beeswax so that the marks will hardly show. Slightly soften the beeswax until it becomes pliable, then press it firmly into the cracks and smooth the surface with a cloth. The beeswax will fill the cracks and work some dust into the beeswax. This gives it a wood finish and when it is varnished the cracks will have disappeared.

In Society's Realm

The Missionary society of Christ Lutheran church will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Coulter of Lincoln avenue this evening. The meeting will be an interesting one and a good attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Heidyer entertained at dinner Sunday at 1:30 in their home in Prospect avenue, in honor of their granddaughter, Miss Martha Katherine Brounce, who received her First Holy Communion in St. Jerome's Catholic church yesterday. Covers were laid for 20 guests. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Pegg.

Miss Jeannette C. Rosenbloom entertained the Board of the Junior Council of Jewish Women at her home in Fallowfield avenue last evening. The object of the meeting was to formulate plans for a basket picnic and swimming party to be held at Jefferson Beach, Elizabeth, Sunday. The picnic plans were made and a good time is anticipated.

Last evening at the home of Mrs. Hazel Worthington of Lookout avenue, with a large attendance of members and several visitors, the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Pollyanna class of Christ Lutheran church was held. It was decided that Friday should be the day of meeting hereafter instead of Thursday, and during the following summer months, the meetings would be held in the form of outings each month. The next meeting will be held July 2, Oakland park. The members will go to the park in the afternoon to be joined in the evening by their families. At the close of the evening, luncheon was served by the hostess.

At a pretty wedding in St. Jerome's Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock, Miss Mary Fiffick, daughter of Mrs. Sophie Fiffick of 907 Crest avenue, became the bride of Andrew Paulick, son of Mrs. Mary Paulick of 819 1-2 Lookout avenue. Rev. Father William Fries was the officiating priest and the ceremony was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends. The bride was gown in white satin with bead trimming and veil that was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Giergenrath of Eldora, wore a gown of white crepe. Joseph Fiffick, brother of the bride, served as best man. Other attendants were Miss Sophia Stasich, John Stasich, of Roscoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Regule of Charleroi. Dinner was served at the home of the groom's mother following the ceremony, after which a reception was held for the bride and groom at the home of the bride's mother. They will reside at 819 1-2 Lookout avenue.

Mrs. Louis Collins of Washington avenue has announced the marriage of her sister, Miss Rose Reichblum, daughter of Mrs. M. Reichblum of Wheeling, W. Va., to J. Leonard Baer, also of Wheeling. The bride was beautifully attired in a French gown of white Dutchess lace and her veil of Dutchess lace, which was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, fell over a full curt train. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Dave Reichblum, brother of the bride, served as best man, while Mrs. Herbert E. Luch of Washington, Pa., was the bride's only attendant. Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in the dining room of the hotel, with covers laid for 23. ELUSIVE LAMB CALMLY WALKS OUT: IS AT LARGE

Pittsburgh, June 18—Thomas Lamb, otherwise known as the elusive Lamb, with a record of many escapes from police stations, calmly walked out of Center avenue police station today before he was tried on a charge of larceny and has not been captured since, this being the third time he has escaped from local officers in three months. Police Superintendent Brochy ordered an investigation. Lamb is said to be a dope addict from Steubenville, O., where he even has more escapes to his credit.

PRESIDENT FAILS TO GET BENEFIT OF TAX REDUCTION

Washington, June 17.—President Coolidge is the only person in the United States who didn't get the benefit of the 25 percent reduction in income tax yesterday.

The constitution expressly states that the compensation of the president "shall neither be increased or diminished" during his term of office.

The president must continue to pay 1923 tax rates on his income until he goes out of office.

President Wilson benefited by the same constitutional provision in the other direction. As the income tax amendment was tacked on the constitution during his first term of office he never had to pay anything until after leaving the White House.

"WHY MEN LEAVE HOME," MAJESTIC

At the Majestic tomorrow and Thursday the attraction will be "Why Men Leave Home." The following is the story:

John Emerson marries Ellen Sutton and starts married life by paying her every attention he did in their courtship days. A year later he has become sullen, negligent and cross. At night he is too tired to take Ellen to places of entertainment. He prefers to remain at home and read the papers.

On his first anniversary he forgets to buy her a gift until she presents him with a remembrance. He then orders the gift by phone and leaves the selection to the jeweler who sends Ellen a gaudy and expensive pair of earrings.

When he returns home he believes the jeweler has selected a bracelet which Ellen is wearing. Later in the evening he reproaches her for wearing "such vulgar earrings." Ellen then realizes that he did not even select the gift.

John's conduct at the office is in marked contrast to his conduct at home. His secretary falls in love with him and begins her game of conquest. But then we mustn't tell you all the story or it would be uninteresting. See the play tomorrow and Thursday.

Avoiding Foot Troubles

"Go to the dentist or your feet will ache."

"People always wonder if I am serious when I tell them this," said Mr. Dixon-Payne, education organizer at the School of Chiropractic, to a writer in London. "But it is true. The teeth are neglected the joints of the whole body, particularly the joints of the foot, are affected. Only 25 per cent of the 27,000 girls employed by one firm who come before me for inspection have perfect feet."

"Shoes are not alone the cause of foot suffering. Socks are often to blame. They are either too long or too tight."

"But the habit of wearing low-heeled shoes one day and Louis heels the next has an injurious effect on the feet. A woman's shoes should have the same heel level and thus the muscles would not be harmed."

American Firearm

The Kentucky rifle, Colt's revolver and volcanic or repeating rifle of the Winchester type are the most distinctly American firearms. The rifle was evolved from inaccurate "bear" rifles brought over by Swiss and German gunsmiths about 1650. These men were fine workmen. For the most part they settled in Lancaster and Bucks counties, Pennsylvania, where among hunters and Indian fighters they at once found ready sale for all the arms they could produce. Working in small crossroads shops, they made entirely by hand, from iron mined and melted in a most primitive way nearby, such modifications of their own "bear" guns as demands required.
